RESEARCH NOTES

The 2021 amendment (SB 160 / Act 2021-461) removed the prior sales cap, expanded the allowed foods list, added online sales and in-state shipping. Before selling, producer must complete a state-approved food safety course (e.g., Learn2Serve ~$7, or ACES course with free videos and $25 exam) and get approval from local county health department. Applications and fees vary by county; typically require proof of training, a sample label, and a product list. State dept URL (alabamapublichealth.gov/foodsafety/cottage-food-law.html) returned 404 as of verification date; current info available via Forrager and Justia. Note: Justia cites §22-20-5.1 while input cites §22-20-5.2 — Justia and the enrolled bill both reference §22-20-5.1 as the operative cottage food section.

HOME OCCUPATION PERMIT	conditional — No state food permit required. However, each municipality (city/town) may require a local business license. The county health department provides a written confirmation of document review, which may be needed for the business license process. Check with local city or county clerk.

RESEARCH NOTES

Alabama state law (§22-20-5.1) explicitly preempts county health departments from adding requirements beyond reviewing food safety course certification and product labels. No home kitchen inspection required. Business license required at city/municipality level — fees and process vary locally. Food safety course certification (ACES or ANSI-accredited, $25, valid 3 years) required before selling. County-specific URLs not confirmed; state-level rules apply uniformly across all counties. No county-specific ordinances found that deviate from state baseline.
