Executive summary

This report covers the Colorado cottage food framework — the state statute, the regulatory body administering it, what producers can and cannot sell, and county-level rules layered on top of state law for the 64 Colorado counties included in this dataset.

ANNUAL SALES CAP

tiered (see notes)

FOOD HANDLER CERTIFICATION

yes (specific course)

DIRECT SALES ONLY

yes

REGISTRATION REQUIRED

yes

KITCHEN INSPECTION

upon-complaint

INDIRECT SALES (RETAIL/ONLINE/WHOLESALE)

no — Products cannot be resold; producers must sell directly to consumers but may designate a representative to sell on their behalf. Sales through restaurants or retail stores are not permitted, though the health department may allow direct sales at those locations on a case-by-case basis.

RESEARCH NOTES

The $10,000 annual cap is per-product (not total revenue), so producers can sell unlimited total by offering different products. Act began 2012; amended 2013, 2015, 2016 (SB 16-058 added all non-PHF foods and internet sales). The 2022 amendment added fermented foods. Free CDPHE registration required. Note: The statute_url in the input (2022a_158_signed.pdf) points to Senate Bill 22-158 which is about species conservation trust funds, NOT the cottage food act — this appears to be an error in the input data. Actual current statute is at C.R.S. §25-4-1614. HB 26-1033 (Tamale Act, 2026) is pending and would expand to allow refrigerated/meat items and remove the $10,000 per-product cap as of January 1, 2027, subject to referendum. Food handler course options: CSU Extension ($50, 3.5hr), online food handler card (~$10-15), or local health dept course. State dept cottage food URL returned 404 at verification; current page at cdphe.colorado.gov/cottage-foods-act.

RESEARCH NOTES

Larimer County (pop. ~359K, county seat Fort Collins) has well-documented home occupation rules. The county's official website (larimer.gov/planning/accessory-home-occupations) provides detailed, current information on the two-tier home occupation classification system. The official Larimer County home occupation handout (updated March 11, 2022) and the county planning department's FAQ page confirm the Registration Certificate process, space limits, vehicle trip limits, and the 30-events-per-year on-site sales rule. Fort Collins is a separate incorporated city (pop. ~168K) with its own Home Occupation License ($25, 2-year validity) administered through the City Zoning Division — CityRuleLookup (verified 9 months ago) and the official fcgov.com/zoning/homebusiness page both confirm these rules. Key distinction: Fort Collins explicitly prohibits 'no retail sales from the site other than incidental sales related to services provided' which may limit direct cottage food sales from the Fort Collins home address; producers in Fort Collins likely need to sell at farmers markets rather than from home. Colorado state cottage food law requires CDPHE registration and food handler certification. The $10,000 per-product annual cap (not total revenue) applies statewide under current law; HB 26-1033 (Tamale Act) pending as of 2026 would expand allowances if enacted. Note: 'value-added agriculture' is expressly prohibited as a home occupation in Larimer County — producers should verify their specific products qualify under standard cottage food (not value-added ag) classification.

RESEARCH NOTES

Routt County UDC (adopted June 11, 2024, effective July 29, 2025) classifies Home Occupation as 'R' (review-based permit) across all residential/rural districts. This means a home occupation review/permit is required county-wide for unincorporated areas. Cottage foods are specifically allowed under state law but local zoning permit still required. City of Steamboat Springs operates separately with resort-area zoning considerations.
