HOME KITCHEN ALLOWED?

Yes (Wisconsin cottage food law is unusual: the Kivist court order allows home bakers (of good character, sanitary kitchen) to sell non-potentially-hazardous baked goods directly to consumers without a license. 'Baked goods' means items exposed to dry heat at 140°F or higher in an oven, waffle maker, or Dutch oven. Unbaked non-PHF items (chocolates, fudge, candies, rice crispy treats) are NOT covered by the Kivist exception per 2024 Wisconsin Court of Appeals ruling. A separate statutory provision (§97.29(2)(b)2, the Pickle Bill) allows home-canned pickles and acidified vegetables/fruits (pH 4.6 or lower) at farmers markets/community events up to $5,000/year without a license.)

INSPECTION REQUIRED?

No (DATCP does not conduct routine inspections for home bakers qualifying under Kivist. Inspection may occur if complaint or foodborne illness is reported.)

Home kitchen rules

Unbaked non-PHF items (chocolates, fudge, candies, rice crispy treats) are NOT covered by the Kivist exception per 2024 Wisconsin Court of Appeals ruling. A separate statutory provision (§97.29(2)(b)2, the Pickle Bill) allows home-canned pickles and acidified vegetables/fruits (pH 4.6 or lower) at farmers markets/community events up to $5,000/year without a license.

Relevant county code

No Dodge County-specific cottage food ordinance identified. State law Wis. Stat. §97.29 and Kivirist v. DATCP court order govern.

RESEARCH NOTES

Wisconsin's cottage food landscape is shaped by case law as much as statute. The Kivirist v. DATCP circuit court order allows home bakers selling non-PHF baked goods directly to consumers without a DATCP license. The 2024 Wisconsin Cottage Food Association v. DATCP Court of Appeals decision confirmed this exception does NOT extend to unbaked goods (chocolates, fudge, candy). Wisconsin Supreme Court denied review. Home bakers must meet 'good character' and kitchen hygiene standards. Dodge County has no county-level cottage food override. Confidence is medium: state framework verified from DATCP official source but county-level zoning not confirmed.
