HOW THIS PLACE WORKS

California cottage food is registered at the county. CDPH does not issue cottage-food permits. Class A registration and Class B permits are handled by the county (or city) environmental health department where you live. If this file only has a county homepage, call Environmental Health and ask for the cottage-food (CFO) page. Class A is registration. Class B is a permit.

Where to file

State

California registration: Yes. Routine kitchen inspection: No. Class B permit holders may sell indirectly through retail stores and restaurants statewide; Class A registrants are limited to direct sales only and may not sell through any retail or wholesale venue.

Zoning / home occupation

Yes. Solano County Environmental Health issues CFO annual registration/permit (Class A ~$96/yr; Class B ~$316/yr per 2013 data, current fees may differ — call 707-784-6765). Local city home-based business license also required (e.g., Benicia requires home-based business license in addition to county CFO permit). California state law (GOV §51035) preempts local zoning restrictions on CFOs.

Health

Upon-complaint. Class A: no inspection required. Class B: inspection required before permit. Inspections may occur upon complaint for both classes.

Business license

Yes

Pickup / delivery

Class A: direct to consumer sales only (in-person, online, delivery within California). Class B: may also sell to retail stores and restaurants. Out-of-county sales require permission from other counties. All sales within California.

If you rent a commissary kitchen

CDPH does not permit commissaries. Counties do. California cottage food (Class A/B) is county environmental health. A commissary, restaurant, or shared kitchen is a retail food facility under CalCode, also at county environmental health, on a different application than the CFO form.

Local health office we have on file: <https://www.solanocounty.gov/health>

This file is the home-kitchen path. A rented kitchen uses a different permit. Ask the kitchen manager which license they expect, then call the local health office.
