State

North Carolina registration: Yes. Routine kitchen inspection: Yes. Home processors may sell to retail stores, restaurants, and directly to consumers. Sales at farmers markets are permitted. Labels are required for wholesale and packaged self-service retail; direct hand-to-consumer sales (e.g., from home or at events) may be exempt from affixed labels if ingredient info is available on request. NC requires annual home kitchen inspection, which is unusual among no-cap states.

Zoning / home occupation

Conditional. NC state law does not preempt local zoning for home occupations. Iredell County zoning requires home occupation permit for home-based businesses in residential zones; business must be secondary to residential use. Statesville has separate municipal zoning. No county URLs provided in input for verification.

Health

Yes. Annual inspection required by NC Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (NCDA&CS) before and during operation.

Business license

Varies

Pickup / delivery

Direct sales allowed at home, farmers markets, and retail stores. Online and mail order permitted. No sales cap.

If you rent a commissary kitchen

NCDA or the local health department, depending on the food. North Carolina home processors register with NCDA. A commissary used as a food service kitchen is typically permitted by the local health department; a food manufacturing plant is NCDA. Ask the kitchen which license they operate under.
