HOW THIS PLACE WORKS

Texas does not let counties charge a cottage-food permit. State law says a local government may not require a permit, license, or fee for a cottage food production operation. The leftover local steps are usually city zoning, a DBA (assumed name) at the county clerk, and sales tax if your products are taxable. This packet shows the state DSHS page for the food rules.

State

Texas registration: No. Routine kitchen inspection: No. Sales must be made directly to consumers or to a 'cottage food vendor' (a new category created by SB 541 in 2025 – a person with a contractual relationship who sells on behalf of the cottage food operation to consumers in-state). Cottage food products may not be sold as ingredients to a food service establishment. No retail grocery store or wholesale sales permitted under the pre-2025 framework; SB 541 (2025) adds the cottage food vendor intermediary option. Products must be delivered to consumer or vendor at point of sale or consumer-designated location.

Zoning / home occupation

Varies by city. No Bexar County-level home occupation permit requirement found for cottage food in unincorporated areas. The City of San Antonio has its own Development Services Department for home occupation permits. Metropolitan Health District (Metro Health) in San Antonio does not regulate cottage food under state preemption.

Health

No. Health departments may act only to prevent an immediate and serious threat to human life or health. No routine or complaint-driven county inspection authority.

Business license

Varies by city

Pickup / delivery

State law allows direct and indirect sales, online sales with in-person/household delivery. Annual gross income cap $150,000 (SB 541, 2025). Starting Sept 2025, TCS food sellers must register with DSHS.

If you rent a commissary kitchen

DSHS does not let locals permit cottage food. A commissary is different. Texas cottage food is exempt from food-establishment rules. A commissary, restaurant, or shared kitchen is a retail food establishment permitted by the local health department or DSHS.

This file is the home-kitchen path. A rented kitchen uses a different permit. Ask the kitchen manager which license they expect, then call the local health office.
