Where to file

State

Vermont registration: Yes. Routine kitchen inspection: Upon-complaint. Food made under a license exemption cannot be sold to restaurants or other licensed food establishments. Sales must be direct to final consumers. Exempt producers must file an annual attestation with the Vermont Department of Health by January 15 each year and complete online food safety training.

Zoning / home occupation

Conditional. Vermont counties have no county government and no county zoning. Home occupation zoning compliance is determined at the municipal (town) level. Producers must contact their specific town or village planning/zoning office to determine if a home occupation permit or approval is needed. Some Vermont towns may require a zoning permit for home-based businesses; others may allow them by right. Additionally, producers may need to register with the Vermont Secretary of State if forming a business entity, and may need a Vermont tax account depending on sales volume.

Health

Conditional. Complaint-based; the Vermont Department of Health may inspect upon complaint. No routine inspection for exempt cottage food operators.

Business license

Conditional

Pickup / delivery

Vermont cottage food exemption: direct sales only. In-person sales, farmers markets, and farm stands are permitted. Online sales with local delivery may be permitted. No indirect/wholesale sales allowed under the cottage food exemption.

If you rent a commissary kitchen

A licensed kitchen is not the cottage exemption. Vermont cottage-food operator exemption is a home path. A commissary is a food and lodging establishment licensed by the Department of Health.

Local health office we have on file: <https://www.addisoncounty.gov>

This file is the home-kitchen path. A rented kitchen uses a different permit. Ask the kitchen manager which license they expect, then call the local health office.
