Where to file

State

Wyoming registration: No. Routine kitchen inspection: No. Wyoming's Food Freedom Act allows considerably broader indirect sales than most states. Non-potentially hazardous foods, eggs, and dairy products may be sold through third-party vendors (retail shops, grocery stores) as long as the sale complies with the Act. The third-party seller must inform consumers that the food is not certified, licensed, or inspected, and non-potentially hazardous foods must be displayed separately from licensed products with a label stating 'this food was made in a home kitchen, is not regulated or inspected and may contain allergens.' Potentially hazardous homemade foods (except eggs/dairy) must be sold by the producer or designated agent only. A 'designated agent' may also facilitate transactions including marketing, transport, storage, and delivery without taking ownership of the product.

Zoning / home occupation

Varies. No county-level home occupation permit identified for unincorporated Uinta County. City of Evanston may require a home occupation permit under municipal zoning. Operators within Evanston city limits should contact City of Evanston Planning. Wyoming Food Freedom Act exempts home-based food operations from state licensing.

Health

No. No routine inspection under Wyoming Food Freedom Act.

Business license

Varies

Pickup / delivery

Sales permitted at farmers markets, farms, ranches, producer's homes, or any location agreed upon by producer and informed end consumer. Non-potentially hazardous foods may also be sold through third-party retailers. No interstate commerce.

If you rent a commissary kitchen

Food Freedom is a home path. A commissary is a food establishment. Wyoming Food Freedom covers homemade food sold under that Act. A commissary used as a food establishment is licensed by the local health department.
